Local Judging

1. "Remove" any identifying information and assign each essay an anonymous number.
2. Recruit 2 or more judges – they do not have to be educators or involved with your school, the only requirement is that they will give a fair and unbiased ranking of the essays.
3. Download the local "Judging Information" which can be found on The American Dream Essay Contest website, americandreamessay.org by clicking on "Educators" in the navigation.
Template included.
4. Print copies of the "Judging Information" packet, the "Tally Form for Judge's Use" and "Judging Rubric" for each judge. Templates included. Only one copy of the "Final Tally of All Essays" needs to be filled out to determine winners.
5. Each school must hold a local judging February 12-26, 2019, to select the 1st, 2nd, and 3rd place essays from each high school.
 - a. The local judging must be anonymous. Proof of the judging will be the signed "Tally Form For Judge's Use" for each judge.
 - b. Submit all your essays and local judging sheets via google drive by sharing them with adec@bgccw.org in one folder titled as "school:teacher name"
6. The winners of the local competition will then go on to participate in the state competition. In order to receive the state awards, participants must attend the awards banquet. If the winner is not in attendance, the next highest placing contestant present will be awarded.

Writing Prompt

American Dream Essay Contest: “What it means to me”

Take a moment to read and reflect upon the “Ten Principles to Live By” as described in James P. Owen’s book, Cowboy Ethics:

1. LIVE EACH DAY WITH COURAGE
2. TAKE PRIDE IN YOUR WORK
3. ALWAYS FINISH WHAT YOU START
4. DO WHAT HAS TO BE DONE
5. BE TOUGH, BUT FAIR
6. WHEN YOU MAKE A PROMISE, KEEP IT
7. RIDE FOR THE BRAND
8. TALK LESS AND SAY MORE
9. REMEMBER THAT SOME THINGS AREN'T FOR SALE
10. KNOW WHERE TO DRAW THE LINE
11. CREATE YOUR OWN PERSONAL ETHICAL BELIEF

As you reflect on your life so far, describe how one of the “Ten Principles to Live By,” or your own personal ethical belief, has been a driving or guiding force in your life. Whether a part of your internal guidance from within, the decisions you make every day, or how they inspire the decisions you make for the benefit of your future, define ‘what it means to me’ in 300-2,000 words.

Essays will be judged primarily on content (Is the essay based on the Principles above? Does the essay show a respect for life and people? Would most people agree that this is an important law of life?) Presentation is also considered (compelling, flow, and clarity). Grammar, usage and conventions will also be considered but should not weigh heavily on how they rank.

Judging Rubric

This Judging Rubric will be used as a guide to rank the essays. Feel free to distribute to judges and participating students.

	Exceptional	Capable	Developing	Needs Improvement
ORGANIZATION/CLARITY	The arrangement of examples and commentary enhances the writer's central argument. Ideas and arguments progress logically and effectively and clearly connect to the main thesis. All parts of the essay contribute to a single overall argument.	The organization of commentary and examples helps to convey the writer's central argument. Most parts of the essay contribute to a single argument, but there may be some extraneous details or commentary.	The organization of commentary and examples cloud the writer's central argument; some rearrangement would help. There are several areas of the essay that do not relate to the main insight. Judging Information

Judges for the American Dream Essay Contest determine the winners. Anonymity is essential. By the time the judges see the essays, they will have been given an anonymous number and WILL NOT have the student's name on them. If a judge sees a student's name on an essay it is critical that they bring this to the attention of the committee immediately. DO NOT have them read the essay until it is returned to them with the student's name removed. Also, before judges read the essays, be sure to mark over or black out any identifying information such as high school name, town, etc.

Judge Requirements

A judge must be someone capable of comprehending and appreciating the purpose of The American Dream Essay Contest. Essays should be judged on content. A judge should be able to evaluate an essay for clarity, its general organization and how compelling it is, but the judge need NOT necessarily be a "grammar expert" or English teacher. Judges must not be a parent or relative of a current contest participant. Judges should not meet together to judge the essays and should not discuss their choices with each other. Each judge should read through each essay and place them in order from exceptional to needs improvement. The judge should then complete the tally sheet (provided). All the judge's tally sheets together are used to complete the overall contest tally sheet (provided). The essay with the lowest numeric score is the 1st place winner.

Essay Criteria

Please refer to the Judging Rubric as well as the criteria below, to guide your ranking decisions.

- High Importance: Content

- A Cowboy Ethic/Code of the West Principle. Students were given the following writing prompt:

Take a moment to read and reflect upon the "Ten Principles to Live By" as described in James P. Owens' book, Cowboy Ethics:

1. Live each day with courage
2. Take pride in your work
3. Always finish what you start
4. Do what has to be done
5. Be tough, but fair
6. When you make a promise, keep it
7. Ride for the brand
8. Talk less and say more
9. Remember that some things aren't for sale
10. Know where to draw the line
11. Create your own personal ethical belief

As you reflect on your life so far, describe how one of the “Ten Principles to Live By,” or your own personal ethical belief, has been a driving or guiding force in your life. Whether a part of your internal guidance from within, the decisions you make every day, or how they inspire the decisions you make for the benefit of your future, define ‘what it means to me’ in 300-2,000 words.

Has the student fulfilled the purpose of the essay?

- Positive and life-affirming. Does the essay show a respect for life and people?
- Universal appeal. Would most people agree that this is an important law of life?

- Other Judging Criteria:

Presentation

- Compelling. Does the essay move you in some way? Are you persuaded by what they have written?
- Clarity. Can you tell what the student means?
- Flow. Does one thought flow into the next?

Grammar and Spelling

- Grammar and spelling are not of utmost importance; unless a high number of glaring mistakes are present that suggest a careless and hastily written essay where the basic concept and flow of the essay are difficult to understand.
